BELIEVER

A fake psychic travels to a haunted town in search of her missing ex-girlfriend.

Lara Campbell doesn't believe in ghosts. But that doesn't mean she can't make money from those who do. She'd never call it a scam, because she does make people feel better about their problems...she just does it by pretending to have psychic powers.

When her ex-girlfriend, Rose, goes missing, Lara travels to a small Oregon town to help find her. But things are weird in Charity, Oregon. Nobody can acknowledge Rose's disappearance, and a strange illness grips those who try. There's a presence in the woods, which is definitely not Sasquatch (right? It couldn't possibly be Sasquatch). And even Lara has a hard time telling reality from dreams.

An atmospheric, somewhat self-aware horror story, BELIEVER looks at not just what we believe, but why. Woven into the season are real-world paranormal stories and elements, which inform and contrast with the action of the show. Each season is 10 episodes long, and each will feature a different setting (so season 2 will not be set in Charity, Oregon). The first season features a Lovecraftian mystery with a Bigfoot twist, grounded in a melancholy love story.

Oh, and there's a dog in it.

Lara Campbell used to believe in ghosts. Now she pretends to believe in them for money. But when her ex-partner goes missing in a town with some very mysterious issues, she may have to re-evaluate everything she thought she knew...while escaping a very real threat in the woods.

BELIEVER is a biweekly scripted audio drama about ghosts, cryptids, cosmic entities, and their worst enemy: cynicism.
